WELCOME TO THE 2016 SFI ANNUAL CONFERENCE

THANK YOU FOR JOINING US IN FLORIDA.

You and your fellow conference participants include a cross-section of individuals and organizations that rely on and value forests — representing conservation and community groups, universities, landowners and land managers, forest product and paper companies, state and public agencies, and Indigenous groups.

You will have many opportunities to engage with this diverse group of people throughout this year's conference: "Linking Future Forests to Communities." Our theme means many things to many people, but at its most fundamental level, it's about recognizing the critical role forests play in our shared quality of life. Forests clean the air we breathe, purify the water we drink, provide habitat for myriad species and help support the economy of countless rural communities.

This conference will give you a first-hand look at the SFI community's commitment to our shared quality of life as we help link forests to communities.

This commitment is embodied in our conference agenda. We will hear about engaging partners on landscape-scale conservation, understanding the potential of measuring conservation impact, empowering communities to build the future forest, linking forestry to the next generation, exploring opportunities for certified forest products in green buildings, and understanding the role of managed forests in the carbon marketplace. These are just a sampling of the ideas up for discussion.

Here in Florida, The Florida Forest Service and other community partners are working to strengthen the links between communities and forests. The Florida Forest Service certified two of its largest forests to the SFI Forest Management Standard in 2015. Jim Karels, Florida State Forester and conference speaker, called it a "win-win" for the environment and Florida's forest-based economy. These newly certified lands will also contribute to the SFI Forest Partners® Program goal of increasing the supply of forestland certified to the SFI Standard in the U.S. South by 10 million acres/4 million hectares by the end of 2017.

I look forward to connecting with you at the conference. Thank you for being part of the SFI community. Together our diversity is a source of strength that benefits the forests we all love.

I would also like to thank our sponsors for their generous support, which makes this event possible.

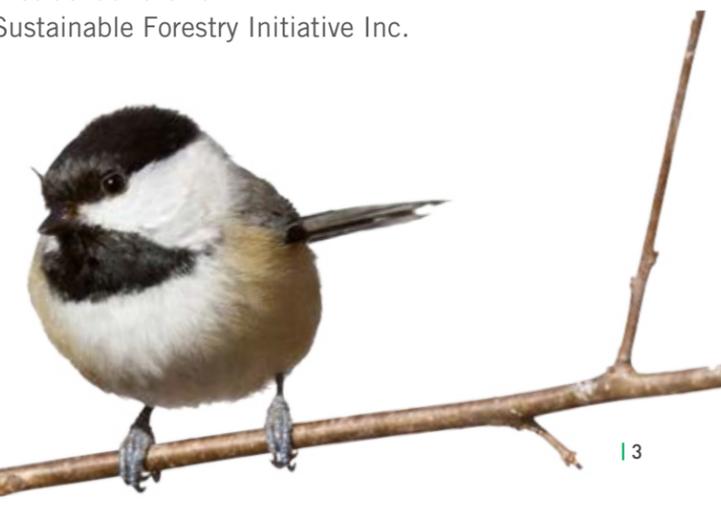

Kathy Abusow
President and CEO
Sustainable Forestry Initiative Inc.

IN MEMORIAM

We Will Always Remember You, Rob Olszewski

On April 19, 2016, so many of us were deeply saddened when we learned of the loss of our close friend and wonderful colleague, Rob Olszewski. We remember Rob for his passion for forests, his great big smile and his even bigger heart.

At SFI, we are fortunate to be able to call Rob a founder and a builder. SFI would not be the success it is today without Rob's tireless dedication and vision. His direct involvement can be seen in the evolution of the SFI Standard – from the very beginning, more than 20 years ago, through the most recent SFI 2015-2019 Standard where he chaired the SFI Standard Revision Steering Committee. He was both a member and chair of the SFI Resources Committee multiple times. His generous spirit and dedication also led him to serve on many other SFI committees and task forces.

Despite the demands of the senior professional roles he played during his career, Rob was always generous with his time.

He mentored university students attending SFI annual conferences and was a source of inspiration for future generations who will carry on his legacy.

In honor of Rob's commitment to educating and mentoring the next generation of forest advocates and leaders, SFI has established the Rob Olszewski Memorial Education Fund for Future Forest Leaders.

Funding will be used to support mentorship and educational opportunities for youth and students interested in learning about or pursuing careers in hydrology, sustainable forestry and other educational pursuits.

Rob was always eager to show the way forward to a sustainable future for our forests and the communities that depend on them. So the next time you are in the woods, take a moment to enjoy the shade of a beautiful tree and think of him.

We send our prayers, our thoughts and sympathy to all those who knew and loved Rob.

We miss you, Rob.

-Kathy Abusow, on behalf of the SFI Community

GO ZERO SPONSORSHIP

To help address climate change and build awareness about the importance of good forest stewardship, SFI is offsetting the CO₂ emissions resulting from travel, accommodations and all of the major sessions at the 2016 SFI Annual Conference, thanks to a sponsorship from Resolute Forest Products. This donation to the Conservation Fund's GO Zero® program will purchase carbon offsets generated from the Fund's Garcia River Forest in California, which is certified to the SFI Forest Management Standard. Together we can keep these lands working sustainably for people and wildlife.

WBCSD/WRI SUSTAINABLE PROCUREMENT GUIDE WORKSHOP AND TRAINING SESSION

9:00 am to 12:00 pm

The World Business Council for Sustainable Development (WBCSD) and the World Resources Institute (WRI) are hosting a workshop focused on promoting sustainable forest management through forest products sourcing policies. The workshop is intended for procurement professionals along the forest products supply chain. It will feature the joint WRI and WBCSD Guide to Sustainable Procurement of Wood and Paper-based Products.

HOSTED BY:

SUSTAINABLE BIOMASS PARTNERSHIP CLINIC

9:00 am to 1:00 pm

Raise any SBP-related questions in a face-to-face session with SBP Technical Director, Simon Armstrong.

NORTH AMERICAN FOREST PARTNERSHIP (NAFP) LUNCH AND LEARN

12:00 pm to 1:00 pm (lunch will be provided)

NAFP is a first-of-its-kind communications initiative developed to increase awareness and understanding of the forest sector. During this informative session you will explore: who NAFP is and what it hopes to accomplish; key insights from recently conducted message testing and audience perception research; what NAFP has been up to (including a tour of a new storytelling platform and available resources); and ways you can get involved.

ALL LANDS, LARGE LANDOWNERS CONSERVATION WORKSHOP

Thursday: 1:00 pm to 5:00 pm | Dinner at 6:30 pm

Friday: 8:00 am to 12:00 pm

Owners of large areas of forestland (more than 10,000 acres) have a particularly important role to play in the attainment of landscape-scale conservation goals. This workshop will follow from an earlier workshop in March, when a group of large private landowners came together with federal, NGO and academic thought leaders to generate ideas for improving engagement on planning and implementation of landscape-scale conservation goals.

WELCOME AND OPENING REMARKS

2:00 pm to 3:00 pm

Delegates will be welcomed to the conference and to the State of Florida, and receive an update on the latest progress and future opportunities for the SFI Program.

SPEAKERS

Kathy Abusow - President and CEO, SFI Inc., will provide opening remarks and an update on the SFI Program, and how our community improves quality of life by ensuring the health and future of forests.

Elder Bobby Henry - Seminole Tribe of Florida, will provide a traditional tribal welcome and offer perspectives from the Seminole Tribe of Florida.

Jim Karels - State Forester, Florida Forest Service, will provide a "Florida welcome" and highlight why the Florida Forest Service chose to get its forest management operations certified to the SFI Standard as part of the SFI Forest Partners® Program. Jim will also speak about Florida's leadership in enhancing forest health.

SFI FOREST PARTNERS CONNECT LANDOWNERS TO MAJOR BRANDS

The SFI Forest Partners® Program was founded in 2012 by Time Inc., National Geographic Society, Macmillan Publishers and Pearson, with support from Hearst Enterprises, to increase certification throughout the supply chain. The SFI Forest Partners Program has a goal of certifying 10 million acres/4 million hectares in the U.S. South by the end of 2017.

MANAGEMENT SOLUTIONS ON LARGE LANDSCAPES

3:00 pm to 4:00 pm

Sponsored by: Georgia Pacific

The evolving concept of "landscape-scale conservation" recognizes that successful, large-scale conservation efforts must include elements and incentives to engage a wide variety of ownership types and management influences. Federal representatives from the U.S. and Canada will speak about focusing on partnerships, science and innovation to demonstrate that large landscapes play a key role in maintaining conservation values.

MODERATOR

Kathy Abusow - President and CEO, SFI Inc.

SPEAKERS

Jim Hubbard - Deputy Chief, State and Private Forestry, USDA Forest Service, will speak about the US Forest Service's efforts to promote the coordinated conservation of natural resources across all lands and all ownerships. Jim will also address how engaging large landowners, in coordination with SFI, will advance collective conservation goals.

Glenn Mason - Assistant Deputy Minister, Natural Resources Canada, will share his views on the ecological, social and environmental benefits of managed forests and the Canadian Forest Service's work on market acceptance in the supply chain and on innovation.

DRIVING SUSTAINABILITY IN GLOBAL FIBER SUPPLY

4:00 pm to 5:00 pm

Sponsored by: Time Inc.

Corporate users of forest fiber are thinking about sustainability and the impact of supply chains. This session will explore key performance indicators for international sustainable development goals and examine a recent analysis that identifies how the conservation benefits of sustainable forest management helps brand owners tell their story.

MODERATOR

Jason Metnick - Senior VP, Customer Affairs, SFI Inc.

SPEAKERS

Matthew Reddy - Director, Forest Solutions Group, World Business Council on Sustainable Development, will discuss the role of corporate procurement decisions and key performance indicators for forest management supply chains in driving global sustainable development.

Bonnie Nixon - Senior Partner, ERM, will share insights from her 30+ years in the corporate sustainability world, advising numerous companies including Hewlett Packard and Mattel. Bonnie has worked to identify key sustainability messages and information which resonates with brand owners, and will discuss the best ways to communicate this information.

INNOVATION IN ENGAGING STAKEHOLDERS IN THE FOREST PRODUCTS SUPPLY CHAIN

9:00 am to 10:00 am
Sponsored by: Sierra Pacific Industries

Hear from two market leaders, The Sustainability Consortium and GreenBlue's Sustainable Packaging Coalition, on providing value throughout the forest products supply chain. Learn how to cost-effectively engage stakeholders to address sustainability objectives through a product's lifecycle.

MODERATOR
Chris Davidson - Director, Corporate Sustainability, WestRock

SPEAKERS
Dr. Christy Slay - Director of Research, The Sustainability Consortium, will speak on how The Sustainability Consortium (TSC) is working to improve the sustainability of consumer products and provide tools for brandowners to help assess these products. Learn how TSC is determining global deforestation risks.

Nina Goodrich - Executive Director, GreenBlue, will speak on GreenBlue's work in engaging stakeholders to address sustainability issues throughout a product's life cycle, as well as the Sustainable Packaging Coalition's work around innovation in packaging. She'll also speak on how GreenBlue's Value Innovation Process helps brand owners source forest-based products.

10:00 am to 10:30 am

LINKING SCIENCE AND THE SUPPLY CHAIN — WHY CONSERVATION IMPACT MATTERS

10:30 am to 12:00 pm
Sponsored by: Hancock Timber Resource Group

Brand owners need science-based information to help consumers understand the conservation-related values of responsible forest management. This session will offer insights on the water- and biodiversity-related contributions associated with sustainably grown and sourced products.

MODERATOR
Paul Trianosky - Chief Conservation Officer, SFI Inc.

SPEAKERS
Bettina Ring - State Forester, Virginia Department of Forestry and SFI Board Member, will share highlights of a new partnership between Virginia, Pennsylvania and local leaders aimed at quantifying potential impacts of land conversion on water quality and demonstrating water filtration savings through forestland retention.

Healy Hamilton - Chief Scientist and Vice President for Conservation Science, NatureServe, will speak about NatureServe's efforts to quantify biodiversity values in well-managed forests, and more broadly on the topic of the biodiversity values in these forests.

Dana Villeneuve - Sustainability Specialist, New Belgium Brewing Company, will share insights about New Belgium's approach to honoring nature at every turn of the business, with an emphasis on their water conservation & advocacy efforts and the brand owner's perspective on the necessity of transparency within the supply chain.

ANNUAL AWARDS LUNCHEON

12:00 pm to 1:30 pm
Sponsored by: International Paper

SFI Inc. will recognize special achievements during the Annual Awards Luncheon. Winners will be announced for the President's Award, the 18th Annual SFI Implementation Committee Achievement Award, the Leadership in Conservation Award and the Sharon Haines Memorial Award for Innovation and Leadership in Sustainability.

LINKING FORESTRY TO THE NEXT GENERATION

1:45 pm to 2:30 pm

Sponsored by: Resource Management Service LLC

Join a discussion about efforts to connect youth to forestry and the challenges and opportunities that university programs face. Learn how Boy Scouts of America (BSA) fosters a passion for forests in its Scouts by building sustainable forestry into its program and why it decided to get more than 100,000 acres of BSA's High Adventure Bases certified to SFI. The panel will also discuss enrollment and diversity challenges faced by university-level forestry and natural resource programs.

MODERATOR

Elizabeth Woodworth - VP, Communications and Community Engagement, SFI Inc.

SPEAKERS

John Stewart - Director, Corporate Engagement and Sustainability Director, Boy Scouts of America, will discuss how BSA is building sustainable forestry into their programs, and how BSA walks the talk by certifying forests.

Prepared. For Life.®

Paul Winistorfer, PhD - Dean, College of Natural Resources and Environment, Virginia Tech, will address challenges and opportunities university programs face in building the forestry professionals of the future.

EMPOWERING COMMUNITIES IN BUILDING THE FUTURE FOREST

2:30 pm to 3:15 pm

The SFI community elevates and enriches the link between people and forests through community, conservation education and partnership programs. This panel will cover topics ranging from the important, multi-generational role of African American-owned family forestlands in Southern communities, to helping Indigenous people connect their values to the forested landscape, to the restoration work being done in the South with urban youth.

MODERATOR

Craig Blair - Chair of the SFI Board of Directors and President and CEO of Resource Management Service LLC

SPEAKERS

Vince Keeler - Director of Forestry, the Center for Heirs' Property Preservation, will discuss the work of Center for Heirs' Property Preservation and the importance of capturing the value of minority family forestlands across multiple generations.

Kelly Olney - Manager, Yakama Forest Products, will discuss how the Yakama Nation connects their community's traditional land values to modern economy and other parties on the landscape, and how certification to SFI assists in addressing Yakama values.

Alison McGee - Coastal Plain Project Director for The Nature Conservancy, will describe the forest restoration work facilitated by an SFI Conservation Grant, which is engaging urban youth in forest restoration and stimulating potential interest in natural resource careers.

CLOSED: SFI IMPLEMENTATION COMMITTEE REGIONAL MEETINGS

3:30 pm to 5:30 pm

SFI Implementation Committees form a grassroots network that works with local conservation groups, government agencies, forestry and professional associations, landowner groups and many others to conduct landowner outreach and community engagement activities. CLIMATE RESILIENCY AND THE CARBON MARKETPLACE

10:30 am to 11:45 am

Sponsored by: Enviva LP

Attention is increasingly turning to the contributions of responsibly managed forests in mitigating and adapting to climate change. This session will explore the role of managed forests and forest products and the opportunities that exist in the carbon marketplace for certified forests.

MODERATOR

John Hagan - President, Manomet, and SFI Board member, will highlight the role of managed forests in climate adaptation and mitigation, and the need for policies and market mechanisms that reward forest landowners.

SPEAKERS

Dylan Jenkins - Vice President of Portfolio Development, Finite Carbon, will offer his insights on the forest carbon offset marketplace, and in particular the opportunities and challenges for large certified forest landowners.

Sean Ross - Director, Forest Operations, Lyme Timber, will speak about Lyme Timber's experience stepping into the forest carbon marketplace, highlight the synergies with certification to SFI, and offer insights for other land managers exploring this arena.

Mark Johnston - Senior Research Scientist, Saskatchewan Research Council, will discuss how SRC is developing practical methods for quantifying carbon sequestration in upland boreal forests and wetlands.

2016 SFI ANNUAL CONFERENCE STUDENT PARTICIPATION SPONSORS

SPONSORING FUTURE FOREST LEADERS

SFI offers scholarship opportunities for forestry and natural resource students to attend our conference. Attendance is financially supported through Student Participation conference sponsorship and funds from the Rob Olszewski Memorial Education Fund for Future Forest Leaders. It's an excellent chance for students to meet the SFI community, and for those attending our conference to interact with the next generation of forestry leaders. Mentoring opportunities and the chance to pitch potential employers are two of the biggest reasons students compete for a chance to attend. This year, 22 exceptional candidates from universities across North America will be on hand to learn how SFI is linking future forests to communities.

Not using responsible forestry would be unwise, on so many levels.

Georgia-Pacific believes in sustainable forestry. By following good forestry practices today, there will be more diverse, healthy forests tomorrow. That means plenty of wood for building, enough paper products for our homes and workplaces, plus abundant habitats for wildlife. And who wouldn't want to live in a world like that?

Who?

Linking the Family
Woodland Community

The American Tree Farm System® (ATFS) is a nationwide community engaging small family forest owners to help provide sustainable wood supplies while protecting clean water and wildlife habitat. ATFS continues to expand its network across 86,600 Tree Farms that provide local, sustainable, third-party certified fiber.

Fiber originating in ATFS certified woodlands is recognized as certified content in SFI® and PEFC® chains of custody.

The ANSI wood products chain-of-custody accreditation program ensures conformance to the requirements of SFI and PEFC.

Founded nearly a century ago, the non-profit American National Standards Institute (ANSI) safeguards the integrity of the U.S. voluntary standardization and conformity assessment system. ANSI is the official U.S. representative to the International Organization for Standardization and a U.S. representative to the International Accreditation Forum.
